Dear Lansdowne YMCA Members,

I wanted to take a few minutes to share another update on our swimming pool and, hopefully, clear up some rumors that seem to be floating around.

First and foremost, our swimming pool is NOT ready to reopen. While the pool is filled, the new filtration system is working, and the water looks inviting, the water temperature is currently a very chilly 65 degrees! That is simply too cold for safe and comfortable swimming.

Now, for some good news!

Our new domestic hot water system is very close to completion. Once operational, we will finally be able to restore hot water to the building.

The installation of our new building heating and pool heating boiler is also progressing as expected. This is a complicated project, and while I wish things could move faster, we continue to make steady progress.

Our fingers are crossed! We are getting closer, and I am hopeful that we will soon be able to share some more exciting news.

I know this has been a long and frustrating process. Believe me, nobody wants to see our pool reopened more than I do! But cannot rush the process or reopen until we know everything is working properly and safely.

In the meantime, please don't believe everything you hear floating around the building. We will continue to communicate directly with you as we have reliable information to share.

Thank you for your continued patience, understanding, and loyalty to our YMCA. It truly means more than you know.

Sincerely,

Michael Ranck
President & CEO
